

Notation Explanation

String Stopping

The green line indicates a string that is being muffled / dampened by the placement of a right hand finger on the string indicated. The notation of string muffling, or stopping, is the notation of silence.

Barreing

Barreing is notated through a brace and a left hand fingering. One is to place the finger indicated across the strings inside the brace.